

Drew Wolff

Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

Drew Wolff serves as BECU's executive vice president and chief financial officer (CFO).

As CFO of Washington's largest credit union with more than 1.4 million members, Drew is responsible for ensuring all aspects of BECU's financial strategy, management and performance support the credit union's near- and long-term strategic objectives.

Prior to joining the executive team, Drew served as BECU's audit committee chairperson and was CFO at Trupanion, an industry leading pet insurance provider in Seattle. He was also previously CFO of Starbucks' International and Channel Development divisions and held senior roles at Barclays and Washington Mutual.

In addition, Drew served as an officer on board several nuclear submarines with the U.S. Navy before embarking on his finance career.

Beyond the office, Drew is dedicated to supporting his community. In the past, he has participated on the boards of the Center for Sustainable Energy, Bainbridge Community Foundation and L.A.C.E.S. Drew holds a Master of Business Administration degree from the Stephen M. Ross School of Business at the University of Michigan and a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics from the U.S. Naval Academy.